Material Title: Beautiful: A Poetic Celebration of Displaced Children

Author: Jaiya John Books 2014 192 pages

The many fictional voices of displaced children in Beautiful are inspired by youth Jaiya John has worked with over a lifetime. This second edition contains 8 NEW POEMS. Beautiful is much more than a source of inspiration. Its words reveal the majesty and vulnerability of all children. Beautiful is an empowerment anthem for youth, a resource for those who love, care for, and work with these purposeful souls. Child light shines through these pages, asserting the demand of our young for their dignity, while portraying their limitless power to heal, grow, and flourish. A poetic companion to Jaiya John's Reflection Pond, Beautiful is the kind of treasure we polish repeatedly, its truth seeping into our compassion. Struggle and triumph. Solitude and belonging. A journey of sunflowers toward the sun of selfhood. In these pages we find Beauty born.

Material Title: Black Baby White Hands: A View from the Crib
Author: Jaiya John Books 2002 378 pages

July 15, 1968. It is only three months following the assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr., and the nation is burning. Black and White America are locked in the tense grip of massive change. Into this inferno steps an unsuspecting young White couple. Neither significantly knew even a single African American person while growing up. Now, a child will change all of that forever. In this fateful moment, a Black baby becomes perhaps the first in the history of New Mexico to be adopted by a White family. Here is a brazenly honest glimpse into the mind and heart of that child, a true story for the ages that flows like a soulful river—separated from his mother at birth, placed into foster care, adopted, and finally reunited with his biological family in adulthood—an astounding journey of personal discovery. Jaiya John has opened the floodgates on his own childhood with this piercing memoir. Black Baby White Hands, a waterfall of jazz splashing over the rocks of love, pain and the honoring of family. Magically, this book finds a way to sing as it cries, and to exude compassion even as it dispels well-entrenched myths. This story is sure to find itself well worn, stained by tears, and brushed by laughter in the lap of parents, adolescents, educators, students and professionals. Here comes the rain and the sunshine, all at once.

Material Title: Building Continuing Bonds for Grieving and Bereaved Children
Author: Brenda Mallon Books 02/21/2018 146

The period following the death of a friend or loved one can be tumultuous for anyone, but can be especially difficult for children, with lasting effects if the loss is not acknowledged or supported. This book emphasises the importance of listening to children and helping them to create positive bonds that can sustain them as they go through their lives. It provides practical, creative approaches to support children in their time of bereavement and to those whose loved one is dying.

By recognising feelings of pain, anger, and confusion through open and positive discussions, a child is able to build emotional resilience and create enduring memories of the person they have lost. The author explains the importance of developing continuing bonds between children and loved ones in times of bereavement and offers practical ways in which these bonds may be nurtured through creative activities, memory making, and personal storytelling.

Material Title: Chester Raccoon and the Acorn Full of Memories
Author: Audrey Penn Children's Books 2009 32

Chester Raccoon's good friend Skiddel Squirrel has had an accident and will not be returning - ever. Chester is upset that he won't get to play with his friend anymore. Mrs. Raccoon suggests that Chester and his friends create some memories of Skiddel, so that they will have good memories when they miss him. Chester, his brother Ronny, and their friends decide to gather at the pond, where they combine their memories and create a touching celebration of their friend's life.

Many young children must face the loss of loved ones or the need to attend a funeral. This sweet story will help children to understand the positive purpose behind memorial services and how "making memories" can provide cheer and comfort when missing an absent loved one.

Material Title: Children's Adjustment to Adoption: Developmental and Clinical Issues
Author: David M. Brodzinsky Books 1998 116 pages

This book presents major issues that affect both the process and outcome of adoption for children and their parents. It offers extensive coverage of theory and research on children and families with clinical vignettes punctuating key points. A discussion of intervention and assessment issues that commonly arise in work with adoptees closes this volume.

Material Title: Child's Journey Through Placement, A
Author: Vera Fahlberg Books 1991 394 pages

This book provides a foundation of resources and tools to help professionals and parents support children as they move through the foster care system to adoption. At times it can focus on theory and practice but it helps families understand why kids move and how their moves affect them. This is considered a seminal work in the field containing practical and thoughtful information about special needs children. More current material on new neurological research and brain development was not available at the time this was written. However, this is still a valuable resource with insight on various aspects related to foster and adopted children.

Material Title: City of One: A Memoir
Author: Francine Cournois Books 1999 253 pages

A distinguished psychiatrist and professor of clinical psychiatry at Columbia University, writes of her childhood in foster care (her father died when she was three, her mother when she was eleven, and her aunts and uncles would not take her or her siblings). Loss & Grief

Material Title: Families Change: A Book for Children Experiencing Termination of Parental Rights* (Children's Material)

Author: Julie Nelson Children's Books 2006 32 pages

Over time, all families change. Sometimes, when families have big problems, they need to change so kids will be safe.

A child's family might change from a birth family to a foster family or an adoptive family. That kind of change can be hard on kids. They may believe that the change is their fault. They may worry about their birth parents, and they may wonder if they can trust the new adults in their life.

This book can help children and families through this difficult change. The first part is meant to be read and shared with children. Simple words and realistic color illustrations tell and show why some kids get foster parents or new adopted moms or dads. The second part includes information and resources for adults who work to keep kids safe: parents and other family adults, foster parents, social workers, teachers, and caregivers.

With the support of caring adults, children who experience termination of parental rights can move from the pain of the past to the promise of the future.

Material Title: First Person Plural (VHS)

Author: Deann Borshay Liem Videotapes 2000 1 hour

This award winning documentary tells the story of its writer, producer, director, Deann Borshay Liem, who in 1966, was adopted by an American family and sent from Korea to her new home in California. Along the way, the memory of her birth family was nearly obliterated by time and misinformation, but recurring dreams led her to discover the truth: her Korean mother was very much alive. Bravely uniting her biological and adoptive families, Borshay Liem's heartfelt journey makes First Person Plural a poignant essay on family, loss, and the reconciling of two identities.

Material Title: Flicker of Hope, A

Author: Julia Cook Children's Books

HOPE is our children's window for a better tomorrow. In terms of resilience and well-being, hope is a critically important predictor of success. This creative story from the best-selling author of My Mouth is a Volcano!, and Bubble Gum Brain, reminds children that dark clouds can be temporary and asking for help is always okay. We all have times when we need to borrow a little hope from someone else.

Sometimes the dark clouds overhead seem too heavy and you feel like giving up. Little candle knows all about this. Bad grades, blasted on social media, worried about making the team, and wondering who her real friends are so many hard things to deal with! All she can see is darkness. But her story begins to change when someone notices she needs a boost of hope. As little candle is reminded she has purpose and her own unique gifts, and that she isn't the only one with dark clouds, her dim light begins to shine brighter.

This hopeful story emphasizes for children (and adults) the many different ways to ask for help, and their ability to be a hope builder for others, too.

Material Title: Foster Care: One Dog's Story of Change

Author: Julia Cook Children's Books 2018 32

In this heartfelt story from the bestselling author of My Mouth is a Volcano!, Foster meets new friends and a kind foster mom who help him navigate the fears and feelings associated with going into foster care. Foster has lived with his mom and "sometimes dad" all of his life...until now. And like so many others entering foster care, he has more questions than answers and so many new feelings to deal with.

"I don't know what's going to happen to me. Will I end up being like Zeke? Will I have a new forever mom? Can I visit my mom once a week?"

"I have so much going on inside me right now. I feel angry, guilty, scared, hurt, and sad. But maybe the others are right. Maybe being here isn't so bad."

Written in an honest, approachable way, Foster Care will encourage children entering or already in foster care and help them understand they are not alone. Foster, Daisy, Zeke, Simpson, and Rex all have different circumstances which brought them to foster care. Together they talk through their stories and realize this is right where they need to be for now; under the caring watch of foster mom, Miss Beulah.

Loss & Grief

Material Title: Free Verse
Author: Sarah Dooley Children's Books 2017 368

When her brother dies in a fire, Sasha Harless has no one left, and nowhere to turn. After her father died in the mines and her mother ran off, he was her last caretaker. They'd always dreamed of leaving Caboose, West Virginia together someday, but instead she's in foster care, feeling more stuck and broken than ever.

But then Sasha discovers family she didn't know she had, and she finally has something to hold onto, especially sweet little Mikey, who's just as broken as she is. Sasha even makes her first friend at school, and is slowly learning to cope with her brother's death through writing poetry, finding a new way to express herself when spoken words just won't do. But when tragedy strikes the mine her cousin works in, Sasha fears the worst and takes Mikey and runs, with no plans to return. In this sensitive and poignant portrayal, Sarah Dooley shows us that life, like poetry, doesn't always take the form you intend.

Material Title: From Place to Place (DVD)
Author: Porch Productions DVDs 2011 80 minutes

Having recently aged out of foster care, Micah, Mandy & Raif face life with little support beyond their social worker, Matt. Raif falls in and out of love as many times as he jumps trains, Mandy tries to succeed at her education and Micah just can't stay out of jail. Mustering courage into action, Mandy and Raif travel to Capitol Hill to tell their stories and try to change the system that raised them for generations to come.

Material Title: Gentle Willow; A Story for Children About Dying
Author: Joyce C. Mills, Ph.D. Children's Books 2003 32

Material Title: Goodbye, Friend! Hello, Friend!
Author: Cori Doerrfeld Children's Books 2019 40

Change and transitions are hard, but Goodbye, Friend! Hello, Friend! demonstrates how, when one experience ends, it opens the door for another to begin. It follows two best friends as they say goodbye to snowmen, and hello to stomping in puddles. They say goodbye to long walks, butterflies, and the sun...and hello to long evening talks, fireflies, and the stars. But the hardest goodbye of all comes when one of the friends has to move away. Feeling alone isn't easy, and sometimes new beginnings take time. But even the hardest days come to an end, and you never know what tomorrow will bring.

Material Title: Grief and Loss in the Care System (DVD)
Author: Foster Parent College DVDs

Material Title: Grief in Adopted Children (Audio)
Author: Robyn Gobbel CDs

Adoption always begins with loss. Grief is inherent, although when and how children experience, express, and process their grief varies substantially. When adoptive parents, professionals, therapists and other helpers honor the grief inherent in adoption and understand the complexities of this loss, we open ourselves up to being more fully present for children to process these losses.

Grief can feel uncomfortable, confusing, and overwhelming. It can be hard to see our children hurting or to know how to be open for conversations without projecting our feelings onto them.

This one-hour webinar will cover:

- The losses inherent in adoption
- Grief related to adoption, specifically ambiguous loss
- Understanding why children grieve for abusive and neglectful families
- How to support children through intense feelings
- How to notice if our own feelings may be triggered or preventing us from being fully present for our children

Material Title: Grieving Teen, The

Author: Helen Fitzgerald

Children's Books

2000

224 pages

In this unique and compassionate guide, renowned grief counselor Helen Fitzgerald turns her attention to the special needs of adolescents struggling with loss and gives teens the tools they need to work through their pain and grief.

Although the circumstances surrounding a death are difficult to handle at any age, adolescence brings with it challenges and struggles that until now have been largely overlooked.

Writing not only about but also for teenagers, Fitzgerald adeptly covers the entire range of situations in which teens may find themselves grieving a death, whether the cause was old age, terminal illness, school violence, or suicide. She helps teens address the gamut of strong and difficult emotions they will experience and the new situations they will face, including family changes, issues with friends, problems at school, and the courage needed to move forward with one's own life.

Using the clear and accessible format that has made The Mourning Handbook and The Grieving Child enduring and helpful classics, Fitzgerald guides teens through everything from the sickbed to the funeral, from the first day back at school to the first anniversary of the death. Above all, she lets teens know that even in their darkest hour, they are not alone.

Material Title: Holding Up the Earth
Author: Dianne Gray Children's Books 2006 210

It has been eight years since Hope's mom died in a car accident. Eight years of shuffling from foster home to foster home. Eight years of trying to hold on to the memories that tether her to her mother. Now Sarah, Hope's newest foster mom, has taken her from Minneapolis to spend the summer on the Nebraska farm where Sarah grew up. Hope is set adrift, anchored only by her ever-present and memory-heavy backpack. Accustomed to the clamor of city life, Hope is at first unsettled by the silence that descends over the farm each night. But listening deeply, she begins to hear the quiet: the crickets' chirp, the windsong, the steady in and out of her own breath. Soon the silence is replaced by voices, like echoes sounding across time — the voices of girls who inhabited the old farmhouse before her. Reluctantly, Hope begins to stretch down roots in the earth and accept this new family as her own.

He cries and cries, and soon the tears become a river and carry him away! Wise monkey spots Sprinkle, but he is too far away. Can he help Sprinkle to find hidden strengths to survive the river of tears?

This therapeutic picture book is written to help children aged 4-10 and adults to talk about being separated from or losing loved ones, and explores how difficult experiences can affect how your body feels and reacts to things. It is followed by easy to read advice for adults on how to help your child.

Material Title: I Have a Question About Death; Clear Answers for All Kids, Including Children with Autism Spectrum Disorder or Other Special Needs
Author: Arlen Grad Gaines and Meredith Englander Polsky Children's Books 2017 40

"What does it mean when someone dies?" "Why did someone I love have to die?" This book asks questions like these that a child might have about death before offering answers. It uses straightforward text and clear illustrations to explain what death means specifically to children with ASD and other Special Needs aged 5-11.

Material Title: I Miss You: A First Look at Death
Author: Pat Thomas Children's Books 2001 32

When a close friend or family member dies, it can be difficult for children to express their feelings. This book helps boys and girls understand that death is a natural complement to life, and that grief and a sense of loss are normal feelings for them to have following a loved one's death. Titles in this sensitively presented series explore the dynamics of various relationships experienced by children of preschool through early school age. Kids are encouraged to understand personal feelings and social problems as a first step in dealing with them. Written by psychotherapist and counselor Pat Thomas, these books promote positive interaction among children, parents, and teachers. The story lines are simple and direct--easily accessible to younger children. There are full-color illustrations on every page.

Material Title: Integrative Parenting: Strategies for Raising Children Affected by Attachment Trauma
Author: Debra, Cathy Schweitzer and Stefanie Armstron Wesselmann Books 2014 130 pages

Children traumatized in their attachment relationships by abuse and neglect, hospitalizations, or out-of-home placements experience intense hurt, fear, and mistrust. The deep emotional pain often manifests as defiance and aggression, even after the environment has change through adoption, foster care, guardianship, or resolution of issues in the home. A treatment that integrates EMDR and family therapy provides hope and healing for hurt children and their families. This practical guide provides specialized parenting strategies to support the treatment, designed to help heal the past, integrate the emotional and logical regions of the child's brain, and nurture a healthy, happier child.

Material Title: Invisible String, The
Author: Patrice Karst Children's Books 10/30/2018 40

Parents, educators, therapists, and social workers alike have declared The Invisible String the perfect tool for coping with all kinds of separation anxiety, loss, and grief. In this relatable and reassuring contemporary classic, a mother tells her two children that they're all connected by an invisible string. "That's impossible!" the children insist, but still they want to know more: "What kind of string?" The answer is the simple truth that binds us all: An Invisible String made of love. Even though you can't see it with your eyes, you can feel it deep in your heart, and know that you are always connected to the ones you love. Does everybody have an Invisible String? How far does it reach? Does it ever go away? This heartwarming picture book for all ages explores questions about the intangible yet unbreakable connections between us, and opens up deeper conversations about love.

Material Title: Lifebooks: Creating a Treasure for the Adopted Child
Author: Beth O'Malley Books 2014 92 pages

This book, expanded from her 2000 issue, presents information on what lifebooks are, why they are so important, and how to proceed with them from just about any standpoint. O'Malley includes a 58 page chapter on the "Essentials." It is all written in a touching, personal manner by someone who spent her first five months in foster care before becoming adopted and eventually started a career as an adoption worker.

Material Title: Lifetimes: The Beautiful Way to Explain Death to Children
Author: Bryan Mellonie Children's Books 1983

When the death of a relative, a friend, or a pet happens or is about to happen . . . how can we help a child to understand?

Lifetimes is a moving book for children of all ages, even parents too. It lets us explain life and death in a sensitive, caring, beautiful way. Lifetimes tells us about beginnings. And about endings. And about living in between. With large, wonderful illustrations, it tells about plants. About animals. About people. It tells that dying is as much a part of living as being born. It helps us to remember. It helps us to understand.

Lifetimes . . . a very special, very important book for you and your child. The book that explains—beautifully—that all living things have their own special Lifetimes.

Material Title: Locomotion
Author: Jacqueline Woodson Children's Books 2010 144

When Lonnie was seven years old, his parents died in a fire. Now he's eleven, and he still misses them terribly. And he misses his little sister, Lili, who was put into a different foster home because "not a lot of people want boys-not foster boys that ain't babies." But Lonnie hasn't given up. His foster mother, Miss Edna, is growing on him. She's already raised two sons and she seems to know what makes them tick. And his teacher, Ms. Marcus, is showing him ways to put his jumbled feelings on paper.

Told entirely through Lonnie's poetry, we see his heartbreak over his lost family, his thoughtful perspective on the world around him, and most of all his love for Lili and his determination to one day put at least half of their family back together. Jacqueline Woodson's poignant story of love, loss, and hope is lyrically written and enormously accessible.

Coverage includes common reactions, caregiver reactions, child responses, and the variables involved.

Loss & Grief

Material Title: Lost and Found (VHS)
Author: Debra Baker Videotapes 2005 26 minutes

There are over six million adoptees in the U.S., and though "Lost and Found" is Debra's own story, it could be the story of any of those separated through a closed adoption system. We have seen the airport reunions, and this film takes viewers into the real world of forming relationships in a new, strangely familiar family, and the impact of search and reunion not only on mother and "child", but entire families.

Through interviews of her family, her son, and his adoptive mother, the emotions and ramifications of reunion are explored. Debra's son's story is connected to Debra's story through that of his adoptive mom's, who was gravely ill when Debra met her. But his adoptive mom wanted to tell her story, also; that she felt reunion was a good thing, that there is enough love to go around, hoping to encourage adoptees to search, and their adoptive parents to support them.

Material Title: Maybe Tomorrow?
Author: Charlotte Agell Children's Books 2019 40

Elba has a big block. She's been dragging it around for a long time.

Norris dances everywhere he goes, even uphill. He is always surrounded by a happy cloud of butterflies.

Can Norris and his butterflies help ease Elba's sadness and convince her to join them on a trip to the ocean?

This tender exploration of loss illuminates how kindness, empathy, and friendship can lift our spirits and see us through many tomorrows. It will resonate with anyone who has experienced hardship or grief, from the death of a loved one or a pet, to a friend moving away, or the transition to a new home or family situation.

Material Title: Memory Box, The: A Book About Grief
Author: Joanna Rowland Children's Books 2017 32

From the perspective of a young child, Joanna Rowland artfully describes what it is like to remember and grieve a loved one who has died. The child in the story creates a memory box to keep mementos and written memories of the loved one, to help in the grieving process. Heartfelt and comforting, The Memory Box will help children and adults talk about this very difficult topic together. The unique point of view allows the reader to imagine the loss of any they have loved - a friend, family member, or even a pet. A parent guide in the back includes information on helping children manage the complex and difficult emotions they feel when they lose someone they love, as well as suggestions on how to create their own memory box.

Material Title: Mermaid Who Couldn't, The
Author: Ali Redford Children's Books 5/21/2018 32

Mariana the Mermaid is not like the other mermaids. Abandoned by a careless mother on the ocean floor, she has never laughed or played, and can barely even swim. She feels useless.

Then she meets Muriel the Turtle, who welcomes her into her family and teaches her to sing her own mighty song, making her feel confident and ready to join in with the other mermaids.

Written for children aged 4+, this picture book uses a simple metaphor to show how children who have experienced neglect or who lack confidence can learn to find a sense of self-worth. It will help children explore their feelings and encourage communication.

Loss & Grief

Material Title: Porcupette Finds a Family
Author: Vanita Oelschlager Children's Books 2010 44

Porcupette Finds a Family, is a story about how a baby porcupine (called a porcupette) finds a new family after losing his mother. He wants to have an attachment to the bear family he finds, but is afraid his "bear" mother and "bear" brother and sister will leave him too. This causes him to act out his fears in ways that jeopardize acceptance from his adopted family. However, with the understanding and help of Mother Bear, Porcupette finally accepts that he is truly loved and wanted despite, or maybe because of, his differences.

Material Title: Primal Wound, The: Understanding the Adopted Child
Author: Nancy Newton Verrier Books 1993 222 pages

By applying information about pre-and perinatal psychology, attachment, bonding, and loss, this book clarifies the effects on adopted children of separation from the birthmother. It also gives those children, whose pain has long been unacknowledged or misunderstood, validation for their feelings, as well as explanations for their behavior. The insight it brings to the experience of abandonment and loss will contribute to the healing of adoptees, their adoptive families, and birthparents.

Material Title: Psychology of Adoption, The

Material Title: Safe Place for Caleb, A: An Interactive Book for Kids, Teens and Adults with Issues of Attachment, Grief, Loss or Early Trauma

Author: Kathleen & Paul Chara

Books

Jan 1970 128 pages

A Safe Place for Caleb is a comprehensive and richly illustrated resource for individuals of all ages who are dealing with attachment problems. Parents, professionals, and lay people will find this book helpful in understanding and addressing attachment disorders in children, adolescents, and adults.

The first half of the book is an interactive story that follows the experiences of Caleb, a young boy who relates his difficulties and frustrations in forming and sustaining healthy relationships. He learns strategies for coping with attachment issues during his journey to the Safe Tree House, where he is introduced to the four "attachment healing keys". These act as therapeutic tools to unlock difficulties with attachment, and are presented using text and illustrations that are easily accessible for readers of all ages, even for young children.

The second half of the book presents a summary of current scientific thought on attachment styles and disorders, and provides a wide array of assessment tools, photocopiable material and healing techniques to address attachment difficulties. Lists of helpful organizations and relevant reading materials are also presented.

Based on established psychological principles, the book is a unique and imaginative guide for professionals, parents, caregivers, and people of all ages who are dealing with attachment issues.

Material Title: Tear Soup: A Recipe for Healing After Loss (DVD)* (Children's Material)

Author: DVD

DVDs

2006 17 Min

The Tear Soup video was produced in a documentary style format. All of the original illustrations from the picture book created by Taylor Bills were filmed in digital format. The pictures were then edited together with the voice of Mary McDonald-Lewis as the story teller and then cleverly mixed with an original score of music and all of the sounds that fill Grandy's day to day life. This story is written in the style of a children's book, and indeed it could be shared with young children, but it appears to be directed at adults as well. Using the extended metaphor of making soup for processing grief, the authors and illustrator offer a wide ranging approach to the process from many possible perspectives.

Author: Erma S. Brundidge, MS Books 2014 101 pages

A true story of a 6 year old girl's journey from abuse, neglect, and shame to a path of Truth guided by the Great Spirit. The gentleness of her Grandfather's lessons taught along the paths through the meadow and by the flowing stream gave her strength to continue through the emotional pain she would inevitably walk back into. Author Erma Brundidge is a foster and adoptive family trainer who spends time speaking to groups about the effects of trauma on children and their future lives and relationships. She was a family therapist for 27 years before retiring and dedicating her life to giving a new understanding to foster and adoptive parents on how their words and actions impact the children they care for.

Material Title: Twenty Life-Transforming Choices Adoptees Need to Make
Author: Sherrie Eldridge Books 2003 270 pages

For adoptees, the past is full of mixed emotions. There's joy and sadness, confusion and relief. Often, difficult and inescapable questions can linger well into adulthood. These questions include: Does my birth mother still think about me? Why was I given up? Was I unworthy for some reason? These feelings are common for many adoptees, even if they grew up in an open, loving adoptive home, they still may be asking some of these questions. The final question that needs to be asked is this: "Will I choose to heal?"

Material Title: Twenty Things Adopted Kids Wish Their Adoptive Parents Knew
Author: Sherrie Eldridge Books 1999 211 pages

This book, written by a woman who was adopted, herself, gives voice to children's unspoken concerns and shows adoptive parents how to free their kids from feelings of fear, abandonment and shame. Eldridge reveals twenty complex emotional issues you must understand to nurture the child you love.

When fifteen-year-old Sefina Nafo is kicked out of her latest foster home, she gets separated from her little brothers. Now, she's the only brown kid in her new foster family as she navigates grief from her dad's death, her mom's addictions, and the school bully labeling her Foster Freak.

With the court date looming, Sefina comes up with a plan to reunite with her mom and brothers before it's too late. The biggest challenge is trying not to fall in love with her new foster family. As her relationship with foster mom Jen blossoms, Sefina must decide what "family" really means.

Material Title: Understanding and Helping Adopted and Foster Children with Emotional Problems (VHS)
Author: Michael Katz Videotapes 1990 4 hours

Many adopted and foster children have behavior problems that do not respond to traditional parenting. This video explains how underlying emotional problems involving attachment, identity, values, developmental delays, and anger produced by painful experiences sometimes not consciously remembered, can be the major causes. A variety of methods for reducing these behaviors are demonstrated.

Material Title: Unlocking the Heart of Adoption: Bridging the gap between birth and adoptive families (DVD)
Author: Sheila Ganz DVDs 2005 57 minutes

This DVD chronicles the filmmaker's journey as a birthmother, interwoven with diverse personal stories of adoptees, birthparents and adoptive parents in both same race and transracial adoptions. It examines relinquishment, growing up adopted, raising an adopted child, years of silence and shame, and searching for answers to unasked questions. In the process, we learn what the universal issues of "identity" "loss" and "needing to know the truth" mean to these people.

Material Title: Visiting Feelings
Author: Lauren Rubenstein Children's Books 2013 32 pages

Beautifully descriptive prose and delightful illustrations cultivate a message of mindfulness and emotional awareness to help children fully experience the present moment. Rather than labeling or defining specific emotions and feelings, Visiting Feelings invites children to sense, explore, and befriend any feeling with acceptance and equanimity. Children can explore their emotions with their senses and nurture a sense of mindfulness. Gaining this objectivity allows space for a more considered response to the feelings. Practicing mindfulness can also enhance many aspects of well-being, help develop insight, empathy, and resiliency.

Material Title: What Children Need When They Grieve
Author: Julia Wilcox Rathkey Books 2004 199 pages

This Book explores the scope of a child's reactions to death, including anger, denial, grief and fear. It gives advice on how to talk to your child and how to recognize their need for privacy and what adults should do and refrain from doing. Rathkey explains the four essentials that every grieving child needs: routine, love, honesty, and security.

Material Title: When Children Grieve: For Adults to Help Children Deal with Death, Divorce, Pet Loss, Moving and Other Losses
Author: John W. James Books 2001 288

To watch a child grieve and not know what to do is one of the most difficult experiences for parents, teachers, and caregivers. And yet, there are guidelines for helping children develop a lifelong, healthy response to loss. In When Children Grieve, John W. James and Russell Friedman of the Grief Recovery Institute, along with psychotherapist Dr. Leslie Landon Matthews, have created a cutting-edge volume that will help free children from the false idea that they "shouldn't feel bad" and will empower them with positive, effective methods of dealing with loss. There are many life experiences that can produce feelings of grief in a child, everything from the death of a relative or a divorce, to more everyday experiences such as moving to a new neighborhood or losing a prized possession. Whatever the reason or the degree of severity if a child you love is grieving, the guidelines examined in this thoughtful book can make a difference. For example:

Listen with your heart, not your head. Allow all emotions to be expressed, without judgment, criticism, or analysis. Recognize that grief is emotional, not intellectual. Avoid the trap of asking your child what is wrong, for he or she will automatically say "Nothing."

Adults -- Go first. Telling the truth about your own grief will make your child feel safe in opening up about his or her own feelings.

Remember that each of your children is unique and each has a unique relationship to the loss event.

Be patient. Don't force your child to talk.

Never say "Don't feel sad" or "Don't feel scared." Sadness and fear, the two most common feelings attached to loss of any kind, are essential to being human.
